

We receive calls on a weekly basis from Directv with subscription offers. They have been told several times that we already subscribe to take us off their list but the calls continue. Radio and television stations are no better than the credit card companies, if they are told not to call they have no right to force themselves on us. We had caller ID added to our phone just to try to avoid the calls but now they use private numbers to get around that. What television companies are doing is harassing consumers and there is nothing we can do to stop them. It's about time somebody tells big companies they will be held accountable for this harassment.

Thank You,
Cindy Oakes